"Attendees will see firsthand why so many organizations are using virtualization to manage mission-critical workloads and taking advantage of the cost-saving benefits of server and storage virtualization," said Tiffany Sequeira, sales manager, J4 Systems.

Microsoft and DataCore presenters will walk attendees through just how virtual servers and virtual storage working together make it easier for enterprises to lower costs, respond faster and deliver flexible and consistent services from their IT.

"The driving force to 'get virtual now' lies the nexus of economics and productivity," said James Price, vice president, product and channel marketing, DataCore Software.

"Virtualization provides the best opportunity to increase productivity and the utilization of existing infrastructure and by centralizing common administrative tasks, processes and resources." Together, Microsoft Hyper-V and DataCore SANmelody: -- Increase utilization rates up to 80% or more -- Reduce provisioning times for new applications from days to minutes -- Accelerate response times for change requests -- Eliminate disruptions for upgrades and maintenance A Complete Virtual Infrastructure - Servers plus Storage! Schedule - Date: Wednesday March 11, 2009 Time: 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.
